

StartUp Ballymun presents

Winning! Dublin business owners tell their stories

4-8pm Wednesday 21st November, Civic Centre, Ballymun

What is StartUp Ballymun about? The objective of StartUp Ballymun is to promote self-employment and enterprise in Ballymun and nearby.

How? By bringing together groups of entrepreneurs to share their know-how of starting and running their own companies.

“We present a group of business people all united under the theme of starting and growing a business in Dublin” says Liam Barry of Dublin City Council. “This is the sixth in the series of free StartUp Ballymun events. These entrepreneurs will tell the audience how they realised their ambition and face day-to-day challenges.

“Anyone already in a small business or seriously thinking of setting one up is encouraged to attend, meet and listen to the panel of entrepreneurs, access free advice from Local Enterprise Dublin City mentors, meet representatives of enterprise support agencies and network with members of Ballymun4business

For this event we are delighted to be included in the schedule of Techstars StartUpWeek Dublin.”

The panel of entrepreneurs

Jeanne Mahony is co-founder of a northside brewery, Hope Beer brewed and bottled in Dublin (Howth Junction, Kilbarrack). Marie-Clare Byard of Now Media - live content creation experts, & based in the Ballymun Social Innovation Hub. Adeola Ogunsina of On-site Refueling diesel direct to your fleet, fuelling fleet trucks when they were not in use from a main depot in Dublin 15. Simon Gell of Simon’s Fish Products located in Finglas, supplying multiple outlets in Dublin with gourmet ready to go seafood. More speakers to be announced.

Organisations with information stands include: Enterprise Ireland, Local Enterprise Office Dublin City, Dublin North West Area Partnership, Innovate Dublin and local business network Ballymun4business

The event MC is Billy Linehan of Celtar business consultants

Book this free event here: <https://startupballymun-winning.eventbrite.ie>

Twitter: @StartUpBallymun

Facebook: StartUp Ballymun

StartUpBallymun is an initiative of the Dublin City Council economic development officer in Ballymun.

Contact: Liam Barry, 087 138 7804 Liam.Barry@DublinCity.ie

Economic Development Officer, Ballymun Town Civic Alliance, Dublin City Council

L to R: Marie Clare Byard Now Media, Billy Linehan Celtar Consultants, Robert Murphy B4b Chairman, Liam Barry Economic Development Officer and Annabelle Conway Innovate Dublin