About This Event:

This intensive morning seminar is presented by Lar Burke, one of Ireland's leading experts on SME financing. During the course of this session, Lar will examine key aspects of raising finance, including:

- Where to go to raise business finance - the options available including some new and alternative opportunities for raising finance;
- How to improve your chances of getting a positive decision;
- Your relationship with your lenders/investors;
- Why banks want to restructure your overdraft and what it means to your cashflow and reputation
- What influences the investor's decision and how you can make sure you hold onto your overdraft and loans.

About Our Speakers:

Lar Burke of CompanyMoney.ie is a specialist in dealing with finance and funding for business. He is an experienced negotiator dealing with bank lenders, state agencies and investors on behalf of client companies. He has developed Business Plans and Financing Proposals for start-up and existing companies to help raise the finance they needed. He has managed complex re-structuring and re-financing projects. Lar trains and coaches lending bankers all over Europe/Middle East on how to evaluate Start-Up, SMEs and Corporate companies. Lar has advised Government agencies and lending banks on small business financing.

Lar will be joined by special guests from Bank of Ireland and MicroFinance Ireland.
